

PRACTICE PRESENTATION + COMMUNICATION = SUCCESS

Practice presentation design meets practice management

Levitch Design Associates

specialists in healthcare design

You've worked hard to develop professional clinical and communication skills, but is your practice environment letting you down?

Consider a purpose designed centre that works as hard as you do.

Dr Mark Casiglia describes his experience: "...Going into this project, I knew my cash flow was critical. LDA suggested a practice management course and I chose Prime Practice. It was the best decision I made. I have been able to sleep easy knowing that my production was not going to fluctuate. Now that I have operated in new premises, I can see how powerful it is to have designed rooms that reflect the quality of clinical services."
